A DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE

EXHIBITION OF
EARLY ENGRAVING IN AMERICA

DECEMBER 12, 1904—FEBRUARY 5, 1905

CAMBRIDGE

PREFACE

THE exhibition of Early Engraving in America has been arranged to give a comprehensive survey of this field, in response to the growing interest manifested by collectors and by the public.

The material for the exhibition has not been selected in accordance with any critical standard, but with a view of showing—as broadly as limits of available space would permit—what was done by engravers here during early years of this country. No research worthy of the name has been possible during the year spent in gathering the material. Such work is left to the student and collector along their chosen special lines in this vast field.

The present catalogue has been compiled to serve not only as a guide through the exhibition, but as a hand-book for collectors of early American prints. An alphabetical arrangement by engravers has been adopted as most serviceable. For convenience in finding certain subjects, an Index of Subjects has been added at the end of the volume.

After the engraver's name a few data concerning his period of activity, etc., are given. These are based largely on information obtained from Mr. D. McN. Stauffer, of New York. The title of each print is followed by a brief description. The inscriptions on the engravings have been printed in italics to differentiate them from the descriptive matter. These inscriptions are given in full, except in a few cases, in which omissions of part of the lettering have been indicated by dots.

Below the descriptive text, at the left, the measurements are given, and at the right side the shape of the engraving and the technical method employed. The dimensions of prints are given, measured to the extremes of the engraved surface, exclusive of lettering. Sub-measurements refer to the essential representation, exclusive of accessories and frame. Measurements are given in inches and sixteenths of inches. For instance, H. 2.11. W. 0.15, means that the engraved surface in question measures two inches and eleven-sixteenths from top to bottom, and fifteen-sixteenths of an inch from side to side.

The terms right and left, used in description, are meant to designate the right or left of the spectator, not of the print. This rule does not, however, apply to the description of portraits, where the movement or position of the right hand or left arm naturally refers to hand or arm of the person described.

In Armorial book-plates, the shield, bearing the arms, is always in the centre; the crest is always above it, the motto below the arms, unless otherwise specified.

The brevity of description demanded some abbreviations. Thus, in the case of portraits, bust, to left, will be understood to mean bust turned to the left (of the spectator); in a landscape, river to left foreground, stands for river flowing to the left side of the foreground. In the measurements H. stands for Height,

W. for Width, S. h. for Sub-height, etc.; Diam. means Diameter. On the opposite side, Rectangle, b.-l. or Oval, b.-l., indicate that there is a border-line (or border-lines) around the rectangle or oval.

The letters B. H. or C., followed by numbers, found below the descriptive text of the print between the measurements and the manner of engraving, refer to the following three authorities: —

B. = W. S. Baker. The engraved portraits of Washington. Philadelphia: 1880.

H. = Charles Henry Hart. Catalogue of the engraved portraits of Washington. The Grolier Club. New York: 1904.

C. = The Hampton L. Carson Collection of Engraved Portraits of Jefferson, Franklin, and Lafayette. Catalogue compiled . . . by Stan. V. Henkels. Philadelphia: 1904.

Under the description of Book-plates, the letter A., followed by a number refers to:

Charles Dexter Allen. American Book-plates, A Guide to their Study with Examples. New York: 1894.

Examples of Paper-money, Coins and Seals have been grouped together in an Appendix. These specimens have been added to the exhibition as helpful evidence concerning the state of engraving in other fields than the one under consideration.

The list of Institutions and Collectors from whom loans have been received will be found at the end of this Preface, which cannot be closed without an expression of sincere thanks to all those friends of the Museum who have furthered this difficult undertaking by their generous loans. Special thanks for invaluable advice and helps most courteously tendered are herewith given to Mr. D. McN. Stauffer, Mr. Frederick L. Gay, Mr. Charles E. Goodspeed, Dr. Samuel A. Green, Dr. James B. Ayer, Mr. George R. Barrett, Dr. Charles E. Clark, Miss Alice F. Brooks, Mr. Frederick James Libbie, Mr. Z. T. Hollingsworth, Mr. Andrew McFarland Davis, and to the officials of the Boston Public Library.

Impression from block in two pieces, lower part is too wide at joint and does not tally at collar. Part of upper piece, below beard, chipped off. A reproduction of another impression is shown. Here the two pieces tally; the inscriptions: Richardus Mather | above the portrait, and Johannes Foster sculpsit | below, are in writing. From differences in the cutting it is inferred that a new lower block had to be made for the "Mr. Richard Mather," and that for some reason a piece was afterwards cut off, along the upper edge. For information concerning portraits of the Mather family, see: Ten fac-simile reproductions relating to various subjects. By Dr. Samuel A. Green, Boston: 1903.

LETTER

December 14, 1904,

Dear Mr. Glade: -

Your favor of the 10th inst^s was duly received. The reason why you have not yet received the catalogue you asked for, is, that a special edition is about to be issued, on hand-made paper & in boards. The Museum owes this to the generosity of Mr. Frederick L. Jay, & I want to send you a copy of this edition de luxe, if you do not mind waiting a couple of days for it. The show look quite fair & I'll be glad to welcome you, whenever you find time to see it.

Sincerely yours
Emil Richter

Merry Christmas!
